HONGKONG, THURSDAY, AUGUST 2, 1894.

CHINESE MINERS IN THE STRAITS.LIEUT.-COLONEL R. F. S. WALKER, well known in Hongkong military and social circles and on the local Cricket Ground, when a 'sub' in the Gloucestershire Regiment eighteen years ago, and now Resident, or something of that sort, somewhere in the Straits Settlements—at present 'Hooker' is in command of the Straits forces who are operating against the rebels in the Pahang district—would appear to rate at a very low estimate the virtues of that highly industrious class the Chinese miners. In a recent official report on the Kinta district Colonel WALKER says:—

"No wonder that crime has increased, as increase it must, with a mining population of Chinese, a race that knows no repose, that settles only for the moment where money is to be made with the greatest ease, that would rob their best friends if they themselves should have lost their savings at the gaming-table.
Crime with such a population as this means progress."With all due respect for these very pronounced and somewhat dogmatically expressed opinions, which doubtless are founded on personal experiences, the Hongkong Telegraph ventures to differ with Colonel WALKER, both as regards the accuracy of his assertions and the soundness of his deduction.
A mining population of Chinese, like the mining populations of all other nations on the face of the earth, may not possess so many all-round virtues as could be desired—in fact, there can be little doubt that they are about the 'toughest' crowd to be met with anywhere; but to assert that the Chinese specially are "a race that knows no repose, that settles only for the moment where money is to be made with the greatest ease, and who would rob their best friends if they themselves should have lost their savings at the gaming table" is more than exaggeration, it is absolutely untrue. That it may apply to a section of a Chinese mining population who frequent the gaming table is more than likely; but then exactly the same allegations could with equal correctness be applied, not merely to foreign miners of all nationalities, but also to certain sections of the fashionable populations of London, Paris, St.
Petersburg and other European cities, which "settle where money is to be made with the greatest ease" and "rob their best friends," etc., who frequent Monte Carlo and the other notorious gambling hells throughout Europe. The Chinese may not be a desirable mining population for the Straits Settlements, although it is worthy of remark that they appear to be made welcome by the Government, and Colonel WALKER may probably have good reasons for the very unfavorable opinions he has thought fit to express in his report; but it might perhaps be as well to recognise that there is a happy medium even in hostile animad-version, and in this case that happy medium has been greatly exceeded.And the Telegraph would like to know by what system of logical reasoning or introspective induction the gallant paradoxical conclusion that "crime with such a population as this means progress." This literary if illogical gem, which sounds not altogether unfamiliar, would be an effective aphorism if it contained even a substratum of possible truth; but in its nakedness it stands an impossible proposition based on nothing.
If crime with a Chinese mining population means progress, what does it mean with any other population, and why? Perhaps Colonel WALKER will explain in his next official report!

FRANCE AND SIAM.

LONDON, July 31st.

Sir Edward Grey (Under Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs) in reply to a question in the House of Commons, said that British interests in Siam consisted in upholding the independence of the country and securing the "most favoured nation" treatment. The British Government relied on the assurance given by France that the occupation of Chantaboon would not be indefinitely prolonged.

THE WAR IN THE NORTH.

Reuters' agent in Shanghai wires that private despatches to Tientsin report another naval fight on Monday last in which the Chinese ironclad Chen-yuen (7,430 tons) was sunk by the Japanese after a hot engagement.It is also reported that two large Chinese cruisers have been either captured or destroyed.
[The Chinese ironclad Chen-yuen was built at Stettin in 1882. Her tonnage is given as 7,400 tons, and her horse-power was 6,000, giving her a speed of about 14 knots. Her armament consisted of four 30.5 centimetre (12.1 inch) Krupp guns, in twin mounting on barbette with 12 inches of armour protection.
The steel projectile for these weapons weighed 725 lbs., the charge of powder being 202 lbs. of slow burning cocoa, and their perforation power at muzzle estimated to penetrate 20 inches of armour. In addition she carried two 15-centimetre (5.8 inches) Krupp guns, one in the bow and the other in the stern, with 12 inch perforation power. She had also three torpedo tubes and numerous machine guns on deck and in the tops. The Chen-yuen was commanded by Capt. Lin, a thoroughly experienced officer who received his training in the British Navy, and had a complement of about 350 men.
As no news of the naval engagement on Monday last and the loss of this powerful ironclad has reached here, it is quite on the cards that the "private despatches to Tientsin" on which Reuters' Shanghai agent relied may prove misleading, and especially as well-informed Chinese who are in direct communication with both Tientsin and Shanghai have heard nothing of the matter.—Ed. Hongkong Telegraph.]

THE WAR IN THE NORTH.

GERMAN STEAMERS STARCHED.

A telegram was received here late last night from the German Consul in Cheloo to the effect that the Japanese cruisers were stopping German steamers in the North and exercising their alleged right of search for contraband of war.

(Special to Hongkong Telegraph.)

TOKYO, August 2nd.

War was formally declared by China against Japan on the 31st ultimo.The Chinese Minister has asked for his pasport, and withdraws from Tokyo to-morrow.Notice to this effect has been given by the Foreign Minister to the representatives of the Treaty Powers.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

It is highly probable that on the 25th inst. this colony will be officially declared free of the plague.SEVERAL of the local insurance companies are reported to be now doing a brisk business in "war risks."The British gunboat Paracock, Lieut.-Commander Lusten, which left Singapore on the 25th ulto., arrived in port this forenoon.The Chinese runboat Chop-sai arrived here from Canton this morning her future destination being somewhere in the North.The entries for Saturday's Gymkhana are published in another column, and would appear to indicate an afternoon's excellent sport.THE P. & O. steamer Gwalior, Capt. C. F.
Denny, which went into dock last Monday, came out yesterday, and will leave for Kobe and Yokohama on Saturday.The Canadian Pacific Railway Co.'s steamship Empress of China arrived at Nagasaki at 6 a.m. to-day, and will leave again at 4 a.m. to-morrow for this port, via Shanghai.Jinks—Even Hongkong milk has its uses sometimes.Winks—Yes! but there's a little too much chalk in it, it comes in handy for the Whitewash Brigade.We hear that the Formosa Government steamer Cass is detained at Canton pending the receipt of instructions from head-quarters. She is, however, ready to go to sea at a moment's notice.THE new British school at Kowloon was formally opened yesterday, and under circumstances which must be considered extremely gratifying to the founders, supporters and management of the institution. About forty children attended, so that Mrs. Findlay Smith and Mr. W. G. Gray, the master, will have plenty of work to keep them going.AN addition to Sergeant Niven's monkey collection at the Kowloon Police Station's "Zoo" is reported, making the second specimen of the "missing link" born in captivity at Tsim-tai-tai with in the past three years. He is intended, we believe, when he grows up, to assume a responsible position either in the Public Works Department or the Post Office.CAPT. HASTINGS at the Magistracy to-day sentenced a coolie, who admitted a previous conviction to nine months' imprisonment for entering a plague-stricken house in Lee Yuen Street, declared by the Sanitary authorities to be unfit for human habitation, and therefrom stealing some curtains. The prisoner's defence was that "he was looking for the Whitewash Brigade."In his recent encyclical, which reads like one of G. Sharp's lectures on the sanctity of island sharks and the inviolate rights of property, our worthy old friend Pope Leo recently declared that the "missing link" born in captivity at Tsim-tai-tai
believe, when he grows up, to assume a responsible position either in the Public Works Department or the Post Office.At the Winchester Assizes the other week, before Mr. Justice Lawrence, James Scanlan, mate of the Liverpool barque St. Monica, pleaded guilty to assaulting the steward of the vessel with a heavy mallet—not a captain bar this time—and was sentenced to nine months hard labour. For negligently navigating the St. Monica on the voyage from Greenock to Monte Video, whereby the safety of the crew, cargo and vessel was endangered, the master, Capt. John Kelly, received a similar sentence.
The shipper and mate used to get so much off colour with drink, that they nearly ran the ship ashore on the Irish coast, and eventually the boatswain navigated her to Lisbon, whence the British Consul sent the crew, who had mutinied, back to England.If opposition is the life of trade, then assuredly the Hongkong, Canton and Macao Steamboat Company should be about the greatest money-making concern in the Gorgeous East. About a year ago the opposition of Chinese-owned steamers brought passenger fares between this port and the City of Rams down to five cents, with a "swig" of tea thrown in. Then the China Merchants' Company ran the Kiangwan on the Pearl River, and is said to have paid so handsomely that all sorts of inducements were held out to her owners to take her to the river trade, and away she went to Shanghai much to the amusement of the wily Chinese.
After that rates went up rapidly, but now, however, they are again down to low-water mark, the Pailo, Kwong-kei and Tai-on filling up with living freight at each end of the line at $1 for first, 60 cents for second, and 30 cents for third-class native passengers. It is quite on the cards that the rates will drop 20 per cent. in the course of the next few days.JAPAN and its Korean policy as viewed through the spectacles of the Editor of the Nagasaki Shimpo—Japan has decided to reform the administration of Korea, and arrange a new basis for the independence of the country, by the right of her national wealth, and upon the principle of assisting the feeble to save them from ruin.
On the other hand, China is contriving by treachery to obstruct Japan, and hinder her in the exercise of her power. The immoral and criminal actions committed by China against Japan up to the present deserve punishment.
But owing to the generosity of Japan this was overlooked in a friendly spirit, and an opportunity offered China to reflect upon her past conduct and endeavor to avoid punishment. If, contrary to Japan's request, China refuses to recall Kin-yeen within a few hours, and withdraw her troops from Korea, then reluctantly, Japan will resort to arms, and clear them out of the country, as a warning for the future. How brave and how gallant the action of Japan is! Both Japanese and foreigners who read the Shimpo, who have not been deceived by certain reports from Tokyo know well, we do not doubt, by what means Japan (which has only 30,000,000 of population and area of China) has attained such superiority over China; also how it originated, and what the effects will be, for we have made every endeavour to make the facts relating to Korea apparent. The steps taken by Japan are right, and in accordance with the principles of national law, so China must not take any steps tending to interfere with Japan's action. If China has the audacity to commence war in endeavoring to prevent Japan carrying on her righteous work, she only increases her responsibility, whilst the brilliancy of the action of Japan rises in proportion!THE O. & O. S. S. Co's steamer Galle, with mail, &c., which left Hongkong on July 31st for San Francisco, via Nagasaki, Kobe, Inland Sea and Yokohama, arrived at her destination on the 29th ulto.It would be interesting to know who is responsible for the large excavation at the corner of Anson Street which for months past has been a death trap and nuisance to everybody who has made use of that thoroughfare? Last night even the bamboo fence, which afforded some measure of safety, had been removed, and the yawning chasm—like the Hon. Tooker's mouth —was ripe and ready for whatever it could catch.
One of these days a trap or 'ricksha' will roll into one of these ornaments of the Public Works Department with fatal results, and then somebody will be hung, or at least ought to be.A somewhat unusual development occurred at the Melbourne Criminal Court the other week which conveys a lesson that ought not to be lost on the Judges of the Hongkong Supreme Court and the members of the local bar. The case of Thomas Kooki, charged with stealing, was brought on to be resumed when Mr. Finlayson, counsel for the prosecution, drew the attention of the Court to the fact that Detective Macmanamy had seen Mr. Field Barrett, counsel for the defence, talking to an empaneled jurymen.
Mr. Barrett explained that the jurymen was an old friend of his, and went away from the court with him, and they had simply an ordinary chat. The Chief Justice said that Mr. Barrett should have kept his friend at arm's length, as it was improper to talk to him in the jury box.
Under the circumstances he would have to discharge the jury, and order a new trial for the next sitting. He also ordered Mr. Barrett to pay the costs incurred so far in the trial, the costs to be taxed. And it seems to us that this, however inconvenient, was the only proper course to pursue. We remember in the infamous Mihlmet libel case, that never to be forgotten outrage on Hongkong justice, coming into Court shortly after the adjournment a few minutes before the time set for resuming the trial and finding Mr. Francis C. Counsel for the plaintiff, and Mr. E. R. Bellison, one of the special jurors, in close and earnest conversation. It is, of course, quite likely that they were not discussing the case, but all the same the proceeding was none the less highly improper, and doubtless if the Judge's attention had been directed to the matter he would have discharged the jury, ordered a new trial, and molested the learned Q.C. in costs![Weas Ruskell wasn't built that way where the Hongkong Telegraph was concerned—Ed.] And it is a great pity that it was not brought to his notice, considering that the verdict eventually given meant the largest premium ever paid through a public court in this colony for the encouragement of gross immorality and unblushing blackguardism.

THE SANITARY BOARD.

A meeting of the Sanitary Board was held this afternoon. Mr. F. H. May presided and there were also present Mr. H. C. H. Tooker, Mr. H. P. Tooker, Mr. H. C. H. Tooker, Mr. C. B. Ayres (Colonial Surgeon), Dr. James, Dr.
Hartigan, Mr. R. K. Leigh, and Mr. E. A. Ram (Secretary).PLEURO-PNEUMONIA AT POK-FU-LAM.
A report from Mr. C. Vivian Ladd, Colonial Veterinary Surgeon, was read, setting forth that the whole of the Dairy Farm Co.'s herd of cattle at Pok-fu-lam had been inoculated with marked success, and that at the present time the Company's cattle are, without exception, in good health. A saving to the revenue of about $15,000 had been effected by the inoculation of the cattle, inasmuch as the more drastic measure of slaughtering the whole herd being resorted to with a view to stamping out the disease.

THE PLAGUE.

Dr. Hartigan asked the President the following question:—"Since it appears that Hongkong itself is almost if not quite free from plague, if we except cases brought over from British Kowloon, is it not therefore, in the opinion of this Board, inadvisable to introduce plague patients from these districts into Hongkong, or to remove plague corpses thence for burial on this Island, in order that the City of Victoria may be declared free from infectious diseases at as early a date as possible?"Mr. F. H. May—it does not appear that the city is clear of the plague. It does not follow that because we remove patients to Kennedy-town it affects the City at all. We had a case in Old Bailey yesterday and the day before before in Wellington Street. It is no use saying we have no plague when we have it.
We are bound to remove the patients to Kennedy-town as that is the only place where we have plague hospitals.THE GOVERNOR AND THE SANITARY BOARD.

THE BOARD'S REPLY TO THE MINUTE.

At the last ordinary meeting of the Sanitary Board, held on the 19th ultimo, a sub-committee of members of the Board (consisting of Dr. Ayres, Mr. F. H. May, and Dr. Ho Kai) was deputed to draw up a reply to the Governor's minute in which His Excellency was pleased to state he would be glad if the Chairman of the Sanitary Board would report to him why the Board has never before the existing crisis come upon the colony exercised the powers which it clearly possesses and has for several years possessed in the matter (the Sanitary condition of Tai-ping-shan) to which he referred, and at a meeting of the Board held this afternoon the following draft reply to that historical minute was passed and the Secretary directed to forward it to the Acting Colonial Secretary forthwith:—Sir,—The members of the Sanitary Board have had under consideration the Governor's minute of the 31st instant, pointing out that under section 13 sub-section 7 of Ordinance 24 of 1887 the Sanitary Board has power to make by-laws for the closing of premises unfit for human habitation, drawing attention to the fact that the Permanent Committee of the Sanitary Board and within the previous 18 months closed nearly 400 houses as unfit for human habitation, and enquiring why the Board has never before the outbreak of Plague in the colony exercised the power (referred to above) which in the opinion of His Excellency it clearly possessed for several years.In reply the members of the Board beg to state:—
The 400 houses referred to have been closed by the Permanent Committee of the Sanitary Board under by-laws made under authority of sections 34 and 35 of Ordinance 24 of 1887, and subsequently ratified by Ordinance 5 of 1894, and not under by-laws made under section 3 sub-section 7.The reason why the Board has never made by-laws under the said section and sub-section is that the Officers of the Board had no power to enter premises to ascertain their condition as regards fitness for habitation. There being no provision for such visitation in the Ordinance the power could not be legally given by the by-law.The Board beg further to point out that the 400 houses referred to have been closed for oneor other of all of three reasons:—(a.) Because they had become infected with Plague; (b.) Because they were contiguous to plague-infected houses; (c.) Because they were unfit for human habitation. Of the houses closed by the Permanent Committee the large majority come under the first and second categories. The third category comprises basement stories, or houses with earth floors on the ground floor and deficient in light and ventilation.There are such an enormous number of tenements in the colony which come under the third category that the Permanent Committee, even during the recent crisis, has not attempted to deal with them except in a comparatively few instances in the Western and Eastern districts of the city.There are hundreds of such tenements in the Central district with which the Permanent Committee have not been able to deal for want of space in which to accommodate the inhabitants.
It is evident therefore that the closing of such tenements (the existence of which was pointed out to the Government by Mr. Chadwick in 1889) is a very large question which the Board with its limited powers and staff had and still has no means of dealing with.

I have the honour to be,

F. H. MAY,

Chairman.

Proposed amendments by Dr. Ho Kai:— Further, the Ordinance does not confer upon the Board, during ordinary times and in the absence of a threatened invasion of any formidable epidemic, endemic or contagious disease, any power to insist on compulsory vacating of houses, to close any premises for any length of time, or to order partial or total destruction of habitations with or without compensation. All such powers, though necessary in many ways if the Board is expected to carry out its duties usefully and effectively, cannot in this particular instance be assumed by the Board on the strength and authority of by-laws made by itself under sections of the Ordinance.This subject, vast and important as it undoubtedly is, falls clearly within the province of the Government, and it is for the Governor with the advice of the Executive Council or Legislative Council, or both, to deal with it thoroughly and effectively, either under the provisions of the Crown Lands Resumption Ordinance of 1889 or under any other enactment that may be deemed proper and necessary.Minutes Attached:— Dr. Ho Kai—I approve, subject to amendments which I submit for approval.
Dr. Ayres—Approved, with Dr. Ho Kai's additions.—Nothing to add.
Mr. F. H. May—I am not in favour of the proposed additions.Dr. James—I think the answer is complete.
The Sanitary Board should have extended powers as to inspection of dwellings at all times.
Mr. H. P. Tooker—The sanitation of the Colony was clearly confided to the care of the Sanitary Board and it is rather late in the day (after seven years' experience) for the Board to discover it had not sufficient powers to carry out the duties entrusted to it.Dr. Hartigan, who spoke about a column, and Mr. Tooker thought the letter inaccurate and inadequate and it sent in to the Government would lay the Board open to a serious snub.
The letter with Dr. Ho Kai's additions was finally adopted.

THE PLAGUE IN HONGKONG.

A Chinese woman was discovered this morning in a house in Old Bailey Street by Sergeant McIvor suffering from the plague. She was removed with all haste to the Tung Wah depot the arduous work of the police, who are now

THE JAPANESE ARMY.

Several ordinances, says the Japan Gazette of July 17th, were issued this morning on the constitution of the Japanese army. The first of these gives the strength of the various regiments. A regiment, or rentai, of infantry consists of three daiai, each commanded by a major, which again are divided into four chutai each under a captain. A rentai is half a ryodan or brigade, which again is half a shidan or Division. As there are six shidan in the country, there are 12 ryodan, or 24 rentai, or 48 daiai, or 96 chutai. A rentai is composed of one colonel, three majors, nine captains, 18 lieutenants, and 17 sub-lieutenants, 120 subalterns, and 1,440 men, making a total of 1,608. As there are two brigades, the total strength is 6,432.

A daiai of cavalry consists of 18 officers, 41 subalterns, and 426 men, making a total of 485 men. As there is one daiai for every Division, the total strength is 2,910. The Imperial Bodyguard's daiai is of the same composition.

A rentai of field artillery consists of 30 officers, 77 subalterns, and 573 men, making a total of 680. As there is one rentai in every Division, the total strength is 4,158. The Imperial Bodyguard's rentai consists of 28 officers, 45 subalterns, and 384 men, making a total of 457.

A rentai of fortification artillery is composed of 70 officers, 167 subalterns, and 1,404 men, making a total of 1,641. There is only one such rentai, which is at Yokosuka.

A daiai of engineers comprises 18 officers, 38 subalterns, and 330 men, making a total of 386. There are six such daiai, and their total strength is 2,316. The Imperial Bodyguard's daiai is composed of 13 officers, 27 subalterns, and 220 men, making a total of 260.

A daiai of commissariat consists of 13 officers, 36 subalterns, and 340 men, making a total of 389. As there are six such daiai, the total strength is 2,334. The Imperial Bodyguard's commissariat consists of one daiai which consists of 13 officers, 36 subalterns, and 400 men, making a total of 449.

Thus, leaving the colonial troops, the Tsuchima Defence corps, gendarmes, etc., out of consideration, the strength of the Japanese army on peace footing is to be as follows:—

	Divisions.	bodyguard.	Total.
Infantry	39,916	6,432	46,348
Cavalry	2,910	485	3,395
Artillery, field	4,158	465	4,623
Artillery, fortification	1,641	—	1,641
Engineers	2,316	260	2,576
Commissariat	3,534	449	3,983
	44,485	8,091	52,576

LARGE (Scotland), July 3rd.
The Britannia, Valmyria and Satanita started this morning in the big race. Valmyria, since she carries 200 tons of increased sail, allows Britannia to take second. Satanita allows both the Britannia and Valmyria two minutes and twenty-six seconds.

At Skelmorlie, near the first buoy, Valmyria was leading thirty-five seconds, Satanita second. The Valmyria continued to increase her lead off Cambray. When nearly once round the four-cornered course, Britannia overhauled Satanita. The first round was timed as follows: Valmyria 2:35.35; Britannia 2:38.51; Satanita 2:39.44.

The result was another victory for the Prince of Wales' cut 'r Britannia, which crossed the finishing line 1.45 ahead of the Valmyria.

In the ten-tonner race the American-built yacht Dakota left all of her class behind, although she started last.

It was hoped that the Vigilant would sail in the Royal Large Yacht Club regatta, but the following telegram from George Gould dated Greenock, received to-night explains the reason of the failure:

"I expect to sail the Vigilant in the Mud Hook Yacht Club regatta on Thursday next if it is possible to get her ready. She is in the dry dock and will be out to-morrow. She is in good condition, but neither crew nor the crew have sailed her under the racing rig as much as I should have liked."

On the arrival of the Vigilant all the Clyde yacht clubs added largely to their prizes, with the object of attracting first-class cutters, and the delay in fitting her out caused much disappointment. For the Mud Hook Club's regatta on Thursday the Mud Memorial Challenge Cup, valued at 100 guineas, with 250 added by the club, is offered. The course will be fifty miles. The Vigilant will be steered by Nat Herreshoff, as an amateur, with Lord Dunraven and George L. Watson, the yacht designer, steering the Valmyria Jameson steering the Britannia and Robert Ure having the Satanita. The Vigilant will doubtless meet the other big yachts also on Saturday, when the Queen's Challenge Cup will be offered by the Royal Clyde Yacht Club.

The Italian and the second, de Campet, they had quarrelled during a discussion of Santo's crime.

The battle occurred near the pass of Undo and the rebels lost over 1,000 men, including several officers.

LONDON, July 4th.
Ambassador Bayard at a dinner given to-day at the Savoy by Consul-General P. S. Collins of the United States, referring to General John Hewston of California, whom the Grand Jury refused to indict for causing the death of George Burton, an itinerant musician, and who sat on the right of the American Minister, said:—

"What has excelled the kindness and hospitality of England? Where has greater justice been found? We, although not asking favours, acknowledge with the greatest gratitude the justice of this great nation. It is this that bears up across the ocean to each other. Let us become rivals with Great Britain in kindness and justice. Let us be rivals in only what elevates our nation."

After the band had played "Hail Columbia," Consul-General Collins responded to Mr. Bayard's speech, saying that he was sure it expressed the feelings of the American "Exiles" in London.

LARGE, July 4th.
The Britannia and Valmyria contested to-day in the second regatta of the Clyde racing season at the Royal Western Yacht Club, for the Weymouth Bay prize of £50. A fine southerly wind was blowing as the yachts crossed the line, the Valmyria getting the weather berth.

The course was from Weymouth Bay round the flag boats off Large, to the Mount Stuart House and back to the starting line, three times round, the total distance being forty-five miles. The Britannia weathered the Valmyria in going to windward and, when making the Large mark, increased her lead speedily.

The Prince of Wales' cutter, at the completion of the first round, was three minutes ahead of Lord Dunraven's yacht. The Britannia maintained her lead to the end and won by seven minutes. When the Britannia put about to windward of the Valmyria the Prince of Wales' cutter had hardly room enough, and Captain Carter had considerable difficulty in getting the Britannia round the Valmyria. As it was, an accident nearly occurred.

To-day's racing was all in favour of the Britannia. She showed herself to be the superior to her opponent in nearly every point of sailing. The wind was southerly, turning to the west, and of fair strength. The Satanita did not compete. She sailed up the Clyde, however, under main sail and jib.

In the last regatta of the club the Satanita, Britannia, Valmyria, Caluna and Isorna started. The Valmyria finished first in 4h. 30m. 35.1. Isorna second in 4h. 35m. The Britannia sprang her mast, the Caluna gave up the race owing to the giving out of her port runner, and the Satanita gave up the race after the second round.

The Vigilant came off the dry dock and will, barring accidents, be ready for racing to-morrow.

When he described General Boulanger as the victim of "the masses in power," the guardian of the cemetery interfered and told the orator that such language could not be tolerated. The speaker explained that he had reference to the politicians governing the nation in 1889, and protested against interference. The exercise proceeded without further interruption.

SIAM NOTES.

BANGKOK, July 24th.
The steamship Phra Nang, which arrived on Sunday, brought some 300 coolies and a flagstaff for the British Legation.

H.M.S. Rattler left her anchorage yesterday and was relieved by the Swift, which returned after a short cruise in the Gulf.

The Kong Peng leaves this trip for Bombay with a cargo of wood. She is chartered by the Bombay Burmah Corporation. Both the great tank firms of Bangkok have recently made large shipments of teak to Bombay.

Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Scott left Bangkok on Saturday morning by the Fylla for a cruise along the East Coast. Mrs. Scott has been ill for some time past, and it is to be hoped she will return completely restored to good health.

The Fylla was courteously placed at the disposal of the party by the Naval Department.

The Chamron Ellis collision case, which has been pending settlement for the last year, has at last been completely arranged between the French Chargé d'Affaires, and H. H. Phra Ong Kachon of the Naval Department, on the basis laid down by the Naval Court of French and English officers. Messrs. Windor & Co. receive 62 per cent of their original claim, which was for $15,000, in round numbers.

We learn that Mr. T. G. Scott, H. B. M. Chargé d'Affaires, will leave in about a month's time for the North, to begin the delimitation of the "buffer state," arranged for between the French and English Governments. MM. Pavie and Leve Pontalis, French Commissioners, are on their way to Saigon. Mr. Pavie was expected at Kohone during the current month, and was proceeding to Singapore, en route for Java in hopes of recovering his health.

We much regret to announce the death of Mr. John Clunis, who died on Wednesday at Koh-si-chang, where he had been landed in an apparently dying condition from the Hecuba. Mr. Clunis had been for some days in the Bangkok hospital, suffering from acute dysentery, and was proceeding to Singapore, en route for Java in hopes of recovering his health.

Mr. Clunis who had not yet exceeded his 60th year, was twice married, first to Miss Scott, a relative of the great explorer, by whom he had eight children, and secondly to a Siamese lady, who survives him. His funeral was well attended by the older inhabitants of Bangkok.

The scene in H.B.M. Consular Court at the hearing of the "newspaper case" on Friday last cannot be more vividly depicted, he called creditable. When one gentleman tells another in excessively plain terms that what he says is untrue, he is always a feeling amongst the audience that the convincance have been exceeded; but the matter becomes considerably worse when a counsel learned in the law is the person denounced, and another of the same distinguished profession declares that in the denunciation was perfectly well-founded and justifiable. It cannot be alleged even by the least censorious critic that such a crisis can be satisfactorily got over by a mere direction on the part of the judge to "be more careful in making statements."

We regret to record the death of Mr. John Jackson, pilot, by drowning on Sunday morning. It appears that the deceased was proceeding from the pilot schooner to the barge Zuluha when his boat capsized. The news has been received in Bangkok with great regret, where Pilot Jackson was a great favorite. Mr. Jackson came to Bangkok in 1858 in the American schooner John Wade, and owing to a quarrel with the Captain, was left behind in Bangkok in care of the American Consul. He afterwards was engaged in the business of ship chandlery, and later in supplying provisions to vessels outside the Bar. He was for some time employed as Captain of a tug boat owned by the Borneo Company, and also by the old Bangkok firm of Mason. He afterwards traded from Macao to Havana, and after a year's absence returned to Bangkok where he settled as pilot. Pilot Jackson was somewhat eccentric in his habits, but charitable and generous to fault. His loss will be deeply deplored by the many he succored in distress; and his name will live in history as having been captured by the Siamese when piloting in the J. B. Say on July 13th, 1863.

A correspondent sends the following details:—"Two Jacksons accompanied by the Captain of the Zuluha, rowed by several of the Zuluha's crew, left to board another vessel which they reached without mishap. In the meantime the wind freshened, and a heavy swell set in. They were advised not to return to their ship, but as they had a good boat the journey was considered safe. Before they reached the Zuluha the boat "broached to" and turned over, throwing the men into the water. They succeeded in reaching the boat and holding on to her, and one of the crew collected the oars. They were frequently washed off the boat by the heavy seas. Jackson was the first to feel exhausted, and being unable to hold on any longer slipped off and was drowned. One of the crew next fell off exhausted, and was also drowned. The rest of the men were washed off six times, and were finally rescued near the Light Ship. During the six times the men were in the water several vessels—probably lighters—passed them, and were hailed for help, but would not give way."—Siam Free Press.
